PROFILE

Driven by a mission to turn innovative ideas into dependable digital experiences, I leverage a BS Computer Science background and 5+ years across web development, SEO, and Quality Assurance to help organizations thrive online. My aim is to sit at the intersection of product vision and user delight championing clean code, search reach, and rigorous testing so every launch moves the business forward. I thrive in collaborative, fast-paced teams that value curiosity, data, and continuous improvement, and I'm energized by roles that let me safeguard quality while pushing for meaningful impact. Wherever I contribute next, my passion is clear: empower the company to deliver reliable, discoverable, and engaging solutions that truly make a difference.
